British Values statement:

At King Athelstan Primary school we take seriously our responsibility to prepare children for life in Modern Britain. Our clear vision incorporates a strong emphasis on "friendship, kindness and respect" and teaching children to be "good citizens."

Fundamental British values (democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs) underpin our day to day work and are also central to our ethos. The values are threaded through our curriculum and taught through our assemblies. The school has also introduced Philosophy for Children (P4C) which supports the exploration of British Values.

We always do our best to make sure children at King Athelstan embrace and live these concepts, demonstrating a good understanding of the application of these values in their own lives.

At King Athelstan Primary School we aim to ensure that the children have exposure to wide experiences beyond their local community during which British Values are evident. For example: sporting events, residential trips and through visiting speakers. The school has a diverse population which provides excellent opportunities to explore the values in their daily lives.

The values are also reflected in the school rules:

The three whole school rules for children in Key Stage 1 and 2 are:

- I will respect my own and other's learning
 - I will care for myself and others
- I will be a good citizen of our school and the wider community

The four whole EYFS rules for children in Nursery and Reception are:

- We listen to adults
- We look after resources
- We use kind hands and feet
- We are kind with our words
