

Handwriting

The teaching of handwriting starts with mark making in Nursery and is then inextricably linked with the teaching of phonics in Reception and KS1. At King Athelstan we use phrases like 'Birdy Fingers' to remind the children of their 'Tripod Grip', which means they initiate their pencil grip with the shape of a birds beak:

